Once-monthly dosing with Emgality 300 mg

Take one dose (three syringes) of Emgality at the beginning of your episodic cluster headache cycle. Continue to take Emgality once a month until your cycle ends.

- One dose (300 mg) comes in 3 prefilled syringes
- Administer the 3 injections (100 mg each) one after the other
- Continue to take monthly until the end of the cluster cycle

Consider having Emgality on hand to be prepared to take at the start of your next cluster cycle.

Ensure you:
- Refrigerate product at 2°C to 8°C (36°F to 46°F) and in the original carton to protect it from light until use
- Check expiration date on product prior to use

Common side effects

Before starting any medication, it is important to consider some of the most common side effects. In a clinical trial, the most common side effects were injection site reactions.

3 key steps to inject Emgality

Administer Emgality in the comfort of your own home

Prior to injecting, choose an area for injection:
• If self-injecting, choose the abdomen or thigh
• If another person is injecting, choose the buttocks or back of upper arm

Be sure not to inject in the exact same spot more than once. Always clean the injection site with an alcohol wipe and let it dry before injecting.

1 Uncap the syringe

2 Gently pinch and hold a fold of skin and insert the needle at a 45-degree angle

3 Inject slowly

IMPORTANT: These are abbreviated steps for using the prefilled syringe. When injecting Emgality, please refer to the Instructions for Use that come with your prefilled syringe.

Before you inject for the first time, your doctor should show you how to prepare and inject Emgality.

Text BEGIN to 55900 to receive the injection “how-to” video and other helpful resources delivered straight to your phone. Msg & data rates may apply.
How Emgality works

Emgality was specifically developed to bind to CGRP, a substance in the brain that may play a key role in episodic cluster headache, and block its binding to the receptor.

CGRP = calcitonin gene-related peptide.
